

Between City and Countryside

This time, men's suits are infused with traditional English style, while still resonating a metropolitan vibe.

Classic men's garments, such as shirts, sweaters, jackets, trousers and overcoats, will get a taste of a true fashion makeover, once fall knocks on the door. Well-selected traditional patterns found in the English countryside will get a splash of electric colors that will shatter the rigidity of conventional men's fashion, while inspired by tradition. Tweed, plaid and pinstripes will take a refreshing bath in blue, orange, red and grass-like colors, while the city vibe will come through in somewhat youthful and trendy fabric combinations, such as woolen jackets and 3D patterns on cotton sweaters.
